[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., May 23.—At the Norfolk Protestant Hospital Thursday night, the Alumnae Association of Graduated Nurses entertained most delightfully the senior class, which will next week receive diplomas and launch out in the practice of their profession. The alumnae were dressed in white uniforms and caps, received their guests in the auditorium, which had been attractively decorated in cut-flowers, palms and rubber plants. Music by a string band was furnished throughout the evening and light refreshments were served. An excellent program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered by volunteers.

A pleasant party was given Thursday evening by members of the younger set in honor of Miss Jessie Willis, who has been the guest of Norfolk friends for several weeks. The evening was spent in a cruise around the harbor and to the Cape. Mrs. W. D. Hemingway, chaperoned, and those present were Miss Willis, Miss Mabel Hemingway, Misses Susie and Arabelle Hitch, Miss Anna Rose Cohn, W. W. Galt, Jr., Thomas Bain, Frank Hitch, Jr., Mr. Crews Richard Jones and Paul Jernigan.

The Central Baptist Church was the scene of an exceedingly pretty wedding Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Mary Debnay Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris Cooke, of Roanoke, Va., became the wife of Dr. Tilden Smith, Rev. E. E. Dudley, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. G. T. Lunckin, of North Carolina. Miss Lucille Cooke, the bride's sister, was her only attendant, and Mr. Otto Smith was his brother's best man.

An enjoyable surprise party was given Miss Florence Miller Tuesday evening at her home in Holt Street, when a number of her friends called, and the evening was pleasantly spent in games and music. Later on supper was served. Miss Miller's guests were Misses Grace Mayo, Naomi Allen, Esther Kanter, Lucy and Edith Stennette, Blanche Brown, Allie King, and Ruth Miller; Messrs. Calvin Baker, Walter Eason, Carl and Harold Connors, Clarence Edwards, Raymond O'Neil, S. Fisher, B. Freeman and E. Powell.

Miss Frances Waddy entertained the members of her sewing club Tuesday afternoon at her home in Raleigh Avenue. Those present were Misses Bessie and Susie Howard, Miss Fannie Pannill, Miss Elizabeth Payne, Miss Rosebud Hodges, Miss Katherine Quinn, Miss Elizabeth Brooke, Miss Virginia Etheridge, Miss Nannie Reed and Miss Bessie Kelly.

Colonel and Mrs. L. W. T. Waller entertained at a very pretty dinner Tuesday evening at their home in the Marine Barracks, in honor of Captain and Mrs. Patterson, U. S. M. C. The table decorations were red roses and red-shaded candles. Covers were laid for eight, and among the guests were Captain and Mrs. Patterson, Captain and Mrs. Deane, and Miss Davis, of Pennsylvania.

A Business That Grows Every Season

Body and mind in the individual develop just in proportion as we rightly exercise both our physical and mental faculties.

This business has steadily grown from season to season because we've never been satisfied with a "good enough" or "big enough" policy.

The goal of yesterday is the starting point of today. To-day's prize lies further ahead, and is only to be obtained by the vigorous exercise of all the store's faculties.

"Intelligent planning and hard work" is the double name of the highway along which this store travels.
